

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

- I. Income Partners Managed Volatility High Yield Bond Fund (the "Fund") invests primarily in high yield debt instruments, which are below investment grade or unrated. The Fund will invest in high yield debt instruments, and as a result may be subject to substantial credit/counterparty risk, credit rating related risks, interest rates risk, liquidity risks, and valuation risks. The investments held by the Fund may fall in value and therefore your investment in the Fund may suffer losses.
- II. The Fund's managed volatility strategy may not achieve the desired results under all circumstances. While the Fund's manager will endeavor to manage the Fund such that it does not exceed its pre-determined annualized volatility target, there is no guarantee that such targets can be reached in all market conditions. Managed volatility does not necessarily mean lower risk and the Fund may still suffer losses.
- III. The Fund is denominated in RMB, and RMB is currently not freely convertible and is subject to exchange controls and restrictions. There is no guarantee that RMB will not depreciate. If you convert Hong Kong Dollar or any other currency into RMB so as to invest in the Fund and subsequently convert the RMB redemption proceeds back into Hong Kong Dollar or any other currency, you may suffer a loss if RMB depreciates against Hong Kong Dollar or other currency. In addition, the underlying investments in the Fund may be denominated in currencies other than RMB. The NAV may be affected favorably by fluctuations in the exchange rates between these currencies and the base currency and by changes in the exchange rate controls.
- IV. The Fund invests in the Greater China region and in the China market and there is subject to emerging market risk including political, economic, legal, regulatory and liquidity risks.
- V. The Fund may invest in derivative transactions such as swaps, futures and forwards for hedging purposes. There is no guarantee that the hedging techniques will be effective.
- VI. In respect of the distribution Units of the Fund (save for Class 2C Dis (USD) Units), the Fund's manager currently intends to make monthly dividend distribution. However, the distribution amount of dividend rate is not guaranteed. In respect of the Class 2C Dis (USD) Units, the Fund's manager makes non-discretionary monthly distributions. For certain classes of Units of the Fund, the Fund's manager may at its discretion pay distributions out of the capital of the Fund. The Fund's manager may also, at its discretion, pay distributions out of gross income, while paying all or part of the fees and expenses of the capital of the Fund, resulting in an increase in distributable income for payment of distributions by the Fund. Therefore the Fund may effectively make payment of dividend out of capital. Payment of distributions out of capital represents a return or withdrawal of part of the amount they originally invested of from any capital gains attributable to the original investment. Any such distributions may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit of the Fund.
- VII. Investment involves risk. Past performance is not a guarantee or a reliable indicator of future results and no guarantee is being made that similar returns will be achieved in the future.
- VIII. In making investment decisions, investors should not rely solely on the information in this report and should read the offering document of the Fund for further details including the risk factors. This document does not constitute an offering document.

The 7% annualized yield is calculated as follows: (total dividend paid or to be paid over the current calendar year / (last available net asset value of the Fund) in the prior calendar year) x 100%.
6. The calendar performance figures are calculated from share class launch dates to calendar year-end.
7. The Sharpe Ratio is calculated as annualized return minus risk free rate (RFR) divided by annualized standard deviation. RFR is the simple average of 1 year CNH cross-currency swap rate.

MANAGER'S COMMENTARY¹⁴

In March, the Russia-Ukraine tension has caused risk averse sentiment in global risk assets, and weakened the Asian high yield market as well. However, as the fundamental impact on most Asian credits are indirect, the selloff has been temporary and started to recover toward the end of March. The Chinese real estate sector also weakened further in March, not only due to the risk-off sentiment from Russia-Ukraine tension, but also as a result of delayed auditor reports from some developers. On the positive side, except the policy fine-tuning since last November, into March we also started to witness tailored policy announcements such as lowering mortgage rate or down-payment ratios, in some Chinese cities including Zhengzhou, Wuhan, Suzhou, etc, which is expected to be supportive on property sales in these cities.

In March, the manager has used some of the cash to buy into oversold non-Chinese high yield credits. Considering the already distressed valuation of the Chinese real estate high yield sector and ongoing policy fine tuning, but weak market sentiment, the fund still held 12% cash for buy-into-dips opportunity later. By the end of March, the fund's exposure in the Chinese real estate sector was 18.5%, compared to 16.1% of the JP Morgan JACI non-investment grade blended index, and highly diversified in 28 issuers.

We believe that prudent credit selection and avoiding default risk is most important under the current environment. Going forward, the manager will continue to closely monitor default risk inside the Chinese real estate sector and China's policy stance toward the property market, and actively manage risk.
